The Board of Trustees of the Crows Nest Consolidated School District No. 78 met this week when the recommendations of the committee chosen by the Board to establish a fair set of rates for rental of the new school auditorium was approved by the board.

The committee comprised T. J. Costigan, L. L. Margatak, Walter Price and J. E. Dugdale, and were appointed to look into rental terms and uses of the high school facilities. The following schedule of charges was worked out and compared with those made by local lodges and reference was also made to schedules on file from Pincher Creek and Macleod School Division.

This amount was turned over to the Coleman branch of the Red Cross Society.

Twenty-four plants make up Canada's musical instrument business. Together they do an annual business of upwards of $15,000,000. Pianos and organs are the big items.

"Barb Wire Johnny" Recalls Early Days

(The Macleod Gazette)

Barb Wire Johnny, (surname Speers) is a character known to early timers such as Norman Grier and others. He was a ranch hand many years ago in the Spring Point area and on the Walrod ranch in the days of the big cattle spreads, and was renowned as a rider.

In appearance you would take him for one of those typical characters seen in western movies. He has a wiry beard, stands about five and a half feet, wears an old slouch hat and despite his 80 years operates a trap line out of Crows Nest on the Alberta - B. C. mountain boundary. He recalls that one of his buddies Joe Lamarr was killed in a bronco riding contest at Calgary Stampede in 1912. Johnny lived at Beaver Creek in the Porcupine Hills west of Macleod, coming from Winton in the Bruce Peninsula, Ont., in 1890, when the country was wide open and hardly a fence anywhere.

On Wednesday he came down from Crows Nest to seek advice at the Haig Clinic in Lethbridge, as he may have to undergo surgery. But he was quite optimistic about it, and figures the doctors will pull him through.

Asked about another old timer at Crows Nest, as to whether he is still alive, he replied that he would live so long that somebody would have to shoot him on resurrection morning.

So Johnny ambled into the bus depot restaurant to get a refresher before continuing his return trip to Crows Nest, his only worry being that his bus driver would see that his pack was safely aboard.

THOUSANDS OF MILES FROM THEIR PACIFIC OCEAN HABITAT exotic fish swim contentedly in specially-transported sea water at the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company's new aquarium in Calgary. Calgary school girl, Leslie Evans, 11, and J. B. Cross, president of the Calgary Brewery, view the specimens which are among 100 varieties of fish and reptiles now on display at Canada's only inland aquarium.

Calgary Brewery Opens First Inland Aquarium

A pioneer Alberta firm has almost $8,000. With the water successfully undertaken a public, same consignments of tropical interest project never before attempted in Canada.

The Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd. has established in Calgary the only salt water fish and reptile aquarium inland from Canada's coasts. The difficulty of obtaining sea water has always previously prevented the establishment of inland aquaria.

The new aquarium at Calgary is located on the Calgary Brewery grounds and the half-million dollar building which houses it will eventually also accommodate a Western museum. On the same site, the Calgary Brewery maintains Alberta's largest fish hatchery where the provincial department of lands and forests has reared nearly 100 million game fish fry and fingerlings for planting in provincial streams and lakes.

J. B. Cross, president of the Calgary Brewery, said in a press interview that the aquarium which was officially opened on August 25th by Premier E. C. Manning, is intended primarily as an educational project although it will have great value as a tourist attraction.

"Getting natural sea water for the aquarium was, of course, a tremendous problem when we first contemplated the display," Mr. Cross said, "but as long as we allowed that problem to be solved, prairie people and their families were going to be deprived of the opportunity to see the kind of life which exists so far away from our homes here."

Consequently, as soon as the building with its 67 tanks—ranging in capacity from four gallons to 4,000 gallons—was completed, and the fish were on order, the Brewery arranged to have 45,000 gallons of sea water transported from the West Coast to fill the tanks.

Twenty-five truckloads of water were shipped to Calgary from Vancouver contained in polyethylene bags containing 1,500 gallons of water each. The moving of water was estimated to have cost

A change in the regulations restricts the issue of duck damage permits to owners, managers or lessees of land or persons authorized by them who are residents of Alberta.

The migratory bird regulations for Alberta announced by the Canadian Wildlife Service extend the season in southern and central Alberta two weeks. The extended season, which runs from Sept. 14 - Dec. 14, is intended to help drive ducks out of the Province and avoid the issue of special duck damage permits. In northern Alberta the season is Sept. 1 - Nov. 30.

Bag limits remain the same as last year except that the same limits are provided for rails, coots and gallinules as for ducks. These limits do not apply to Mergansers, and others living by hunting and trapping who may shoot 25 rails, coots and gallinules a day. Special protection is given the scarce canvasback and redhead ducks by allowing no more than one of either kind to be included in a day's bag or in possession.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

WHERE'S THAT DEPRESSION?

A year ago, most of the pundits were predicting a serious recession or even a depression here in Canada. But we have been fortunate. Things have continued to roll along at a pretty fast clip.

Now some of the most respected forecasters see the possibility of a small boom in the offing. They believe the economy will get a real shot in the arm from the decision of the U. S. Federal Power Commission to allow the importation of Canadian natural gas. Pipelines will be constructed, the steel industry will be busy again, and more men will be put to work.

Already the stock market is reflecting a new feeling of confidence in the Canadian economy. Americans are said to be enthusiastic once again about the steady growth potential of this country. And there is similar enthusiasm building up among European investors. What happened to the depression? Why did it not materialize?

My own view is that we escaped it, so far, because the vast majority of Canadians are sensible and industrious. When there are storm warnings, they note them and act accordingly. Demands for heavy government spending have eased off—except the strident demands of the professional demanders, and a deluge wouldn't stop them!

For a time, we were behaving much the same way as the citizens of 1928-29. Governments were beginning to take the attitude that money grew on trees. Some men in responsible positions of leadership, were preaching that prosperity was merely a question of spreading large amounts of money around so that consumers could keep buying. Prices zoomed up and up and up. Some of the proposals of these leaders, if generally accepted, would have assured a depression equal to that of the dirty thirties.

Better sense has prevailed.

There is a steady growth going on now, and it should soon accelerate. If our manufacturing industries can reach reasonable agreement with their employees and manage somehow to compete with other nations in world markets, a wonderful base for progress would be established. A reduction in taxes, a general lowering of costs, a willingness to work hard and effectively — these would assure a prosperous and strong Canada for many years to come.

Letter to the Editor

St. Davids, Ont.,
August 4, 1960.

The Coleman Journal,
Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Mr. Holstead:

Here I am again late as usual with my subscription out glad to get The Journal even though I do not recognize all the names.

It's not quite two years since I lost Joe and moved to Niagara on the Lake.

Since then Jerry spent a year in the TB sanatorium in St. Catharines including a trip to Toronto for a lung operation. He has recovered very well and after getting married last February, lives in St. Catharines.

Doris was married in April and she and her husband will soon be transferred to Hawaii.

Kenneth and his wife live near me in Niagara.

Virginia presented me with a new grandson this year. I am at present living with her, recovering from an operation and trying not to spoil the baby.

I trust this finds you and your family in good health, and enjoying a good summer.

We have had a lovely summer— not too hot. Everything is still fresh and green around here.

Good-bye for now.

Yours sincerely,
Virginia Petrunick.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Woods

Woods-Clements Nuptials Observed

The Preeceville United Church decorated with large bouquets of blue and white delphiniums and coral and white gladioli was the setting for a pretty summer wedding, on Saturday, July 30th when Miss Leone Dorcas, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Clements of Preeceville, and Mr. Donald Ralph Woods eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Woods of Coleman, Alberta exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Dr. M. O. Thomas of Preeceville.

The bride, who entered the church with her father was lovely in a white organza in -sleeved dress with embroidered bodice and skirt which fell into a slight train. The neckline was scalloped and featured tiny scalloped short sleeves and she wore white mittens. Her chapel veil was held in place by a tiny pearl beaded tiara. Her only adornment was cultured pearl ear rings, a gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of statice white carnations centred by a white orchid.

The maid of honor was Miss

Marilyn Mattson of Winnipeg cousin of the bride.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jo-Anne Plaxin of Yorkton and Miss Audrey Zarazin of Winnipeg. The 3 girls wore identical gowns of coral organza in waist length. They wore tiny crowns made of lily of the valley and carried nose bags of white carnations tied with coral ties.

The groom was supported by Mr. William Urwin of Edmonton, Mr. Arthur Gordon of Webb, Sask., and Mr. Lawrence Clements, brother of the bride.

The brides mother chose a pale blue lace sheath gown with matching jacket and blue accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations with a blue tinge.

The groom's mother chose a gown of taupe crepe in pink and blue with white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations with a pink tinge.

During the signing of the register Mr. Kenneth Mattson sang "I Love You Truly". Mrs. Floyd Clark presided the wedding music.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Legion Hall and covers were laid for 120 guests. Miss Lois Shinn presided over the register. The brides table was centred by a three tier wedding cake and flanked by bouquets of sweet peas.

Mr. Floyd Vansdal proposed the toast to the bride, which was duly responded to by the groom. Mr. H. S. Moore was toast master.

For going away the bride chose a sheath gown of white embroidered in marigold with gold sash and jacket and white accessories and wore a white orchid corsage.

After a short honeymoon, the happy couple will make their home in Calgary, Alta.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Woods and sons Kenneth and Stanley and daughter Noreen of Coleman, Alta.; Mr. Irwin of Edmonton, Alta.; Mr. Arthur Gordon of Webb, Sask.; Mr. Marilyn Mattson and Miss Audrey Zarazin of Winnipeg; Miss Jo-Anne Plaxin of Yorkton; Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Mattson of Ponchar, Manitoba; Mr. and Mrs. Clem Mattson and Blair of Dauphin; Mr. and Mrs. John Clements of Plover, Man.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. ### Family Life Conference

The realistically researched "State of modern marriage in Alberta" one of C. on how it is affected by personal troubles and outside pressure — is due this fall for a frank 10-day scrutiny at Banff by over 500 persons (most of them husbands and wives).

The first western probe ever undertaken on intimate family life, the two province regional will be preceded with a one-day pre-conference institute of professional people beginning Thursday evening, September 22nd. The conference itself will officially start at seven on Friday night and continue through to a closing banquet Sunday noon.

Its Catholic sponsors claim this Family Life Conference is planned for a far wider scope than the parish circuit, and should come up with suggestions as to trends common among ordinary people of all faiths — certainly in Western Canada, if not in the entire nation.

How best to make the most of the day-to-day love of husband and wife, of children and Christian family ties, how to meet the pressure demands of money, working, labor and business, rape and police, society, legal and political problems — and how and who will master- mind family action — typify the questions expected at round table workshop discussions. These will follow each of three key speakers.

By the time the conference is called, months of preparation will have preceded it. In both provinces local institutions have been formed to bring their findings to the six pre-conference institute sessions (grouped according to professions, "institutions" are doctors, lawyers, teachers, bankers, social workers and every one who will incur in family problems, affected by their own field).

A special survey on daily family life is now under way in a weekend, mile radius around Karleton, B. C., and will provide scientific answers to several among two thousand families.

The survey is the west's first regional and on intimate family relations. It was set up by professional survey consultants and electronic being indicated by IBM Strickland International. It was headed by Dr. J. L. Hume.

Although becoming the lines of marital national Canadian conference, the first was in '33, which had such theme as "marriage, home and community" and family life, the Banff regional has one changing difference. Its ecclesiastical participants were national in gross but at Banff, predominantly plain people will work on western problems.

The four key speakers are either eastern or western in the west. They are: The Honorable David "Buck" Maclean in justice for Canada, Secretary of a Channing Secetary; Mr. Grant Maxwell, former city editor of the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix, CBC commentator, and columnist, "Love of Husband and Wife"; Doctor Lawrence Lynch, professor of Philosophy, University of St. Michael's College, University of Toronto, "The Population Bomb"; and Dr. Frederick Gordon Tucker, Psychiatrist, Clinical Director of the Cross Clinic, Provincial Mental Hospital, Essondale, B. C., "Parents and Children".

Chairmen for the Banff conference are Dr. Irial Gogan, M.D., Medical Director, Holy Cross Hospital, Chairman, Catholic Charities, Director Rehabilitation Society, and Member Special committee for Lacombe Home, Pas. President Calgary Region Hospital Conference, formerly vice-president of Canadian Public Health Association, Saskatchewan Division, Director Hospital Administration Province of Saskatchewan; and Rev. Patrick O'Byrne, executive director Catholic Family Service, Diocesan Director Catholic Charities, Member National committee Social Life Conference. Chairman is the Hon. Frederick C. Colborne, D.F.C., M.L.A., Minister without portfolio, Alberta Government, Honorary Member of Advisory Board of the Providence Archep. Member of the Third Order of St. Francis, Director Calgary Flying Club, Claysmen Club and the Calgary Winter Club.

Student body grows. At Dec. 1, 1959, the full-time university enrolment in Canadian universities and colleges was 102,000, up 8.1 per cent in a year.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

WALKING AFTER THE BALL

Vernon Law, star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, told a writer for THIS WEEK magazine some of the secrets of becoming a winner. Law keeps a little black book in which he has written down things he noticed about winners in the great sport of baseball. One of the first observations was this:

Nobody ever became a ballplayer by walking after the ball.

What a wealth of philosophy there is in that one observation!

Another pointed comment was this "When you start to slide — slide. He who changes his mind may exchange a good leg for a broken one."

Another was: "You'll never become a .300 hitter unless you take your bat off your shoulder". Seldom have I been so impressed with words. Law, who is an elder of his church as well as being one of the finest pitchers in baseball, speaks volumes in each single line. His observations in his own trade apply with stinging force to most other human enterprises.

Nobody ever became a ballplayer by walking after the ball!

Any man who can get that wisdom etched into his cranium is half way to home. Any nation with young men who know this truth and live by it will be wealthy and secure.

Canadians, in general, do not walk after the ball. We are hustlers. We are industrious and hard working. But in recent years there has been a drift away from such an attitude. There are some who preach that by some political magic or other we can become secure and well fed and strong while walking, not running, after the ball. We cannot. We must hustle. No nation ever became great without zeal and enterprise and plenty of hard work.

And there was another bit of advice in Vernon Law's black notebook — advice some of these who call for more government spending ought to read and absorb. It was packed into one sharp sentence too.

"Don't throw the ball before you have it."

Former Coleman Girl Wed

Church of the Redeemer was scene of the early July marriage ceremony uniting Diana Eckerley Guerard, daughter of Mrs. Fred W. Guerard of Calgary, and the late Mr. Guerard, and Mr. Robert L. Fields, son of Inspector and Mrs. E. S. W. Batty of Nelson.

Many friends and relatives from Vancouver, Nelson and points in Alberta witnessed the double-ring marriage service read by Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood in the Fairview church, which was decorated with Esther Reid daisies and yellow broom for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Richard Guerard of Calgary, the bride was charming in a gown of Norganza, with full skirt ending in train and ornamented with small bows of self material. Rhinestones and daisy appliques outlined the simple neckline, and the sleeves were lily point.

Her bouquet of pale pink rosebuds and white carnations was tied with moss green ribbons.

Daisies Featured

The bride's attendants, Mrs. K. Pearson as matron of honor, and Miss Gay Batty as bridesmaid, were identically gowned in daisy-printed polished cotton, with pale yellow sheer overdress. Their headbands were fashioned of yellow and browntinged shasta daisies and they carried shower bouquets tied with brown satin ribbon.

Mr. Lawrence W. Fields of Winnipeg supported his brother as best man, and ushers were Mr. Ken Pearson and Mr. William McGillivray of Trail.

Miss Kathleen Hollington was organist, accompanying vocal soloist Miss Barbara Lea, who sang "O Perfect Love" during signing of the register.

Assisting in the receiving line at a reception held in the Parish Hall, Mrs. Guerard was gowned in a blue grey floral silk with matching coat, rose-trimmed whimsy hat and white accessories.

Mrs. Batty chose a gown of pale aqua lace with matching hat in tone, pineapple-colored shoes and cloche hat of handmade rosebuds.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ralph Sherwood of Barons, Alta.

The bride's table was covered with a cutwork cloth and ornamented with white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake, embedded in tulle and pink rosebuds, was topped by an ornament used on the cake at the wedding of the bride's parents.

Inspector Batty's sword was used to cut the wedding cake, which was served to the guests by the bridegroom. Serviteurs were Miss Nomi Buckley, Miss Frances Hryzak, Miss Sharon Scott and Miss Tannis Beattie of Trail and Miss Caroline Johnson of Roseland.

For her wedding trip, the bride changed into a brown suit with beige accessories and pink carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Fields are making their home in Nelson.

Out of town guests were Mrs. F. W. Guerard and Mr. Richard Guerard of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sherwood and boys and Mrs. T. Sherwood of Barons; Mrs. J. Downie of Blackie; Mr. and Mrs. G. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. S. Murdoch, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schultz and Cathy, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Greenhalgh, all of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kay of Arrow Park; Mr. and Mrs. R. Beattie and Tannis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnson, Mr. W. McGillivray, all of Trail; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Murray of Passmore; Mr. and Mrs. H. Batty of Burnaby; Mrs. W. R. Shelp of Crescent Beach; Miss J. Stewart of Vancouver and Mr. L. W. Fields of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dean of Crescent Valley and Mr. Myron Condon of Spokane.

Bridal Shower For Mrs. R. Flexhaug

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Italian hall, Coleman, on Wednesday, August 24th in honor of Mrs. Roger Flexhaug (nee Delores Fisher).

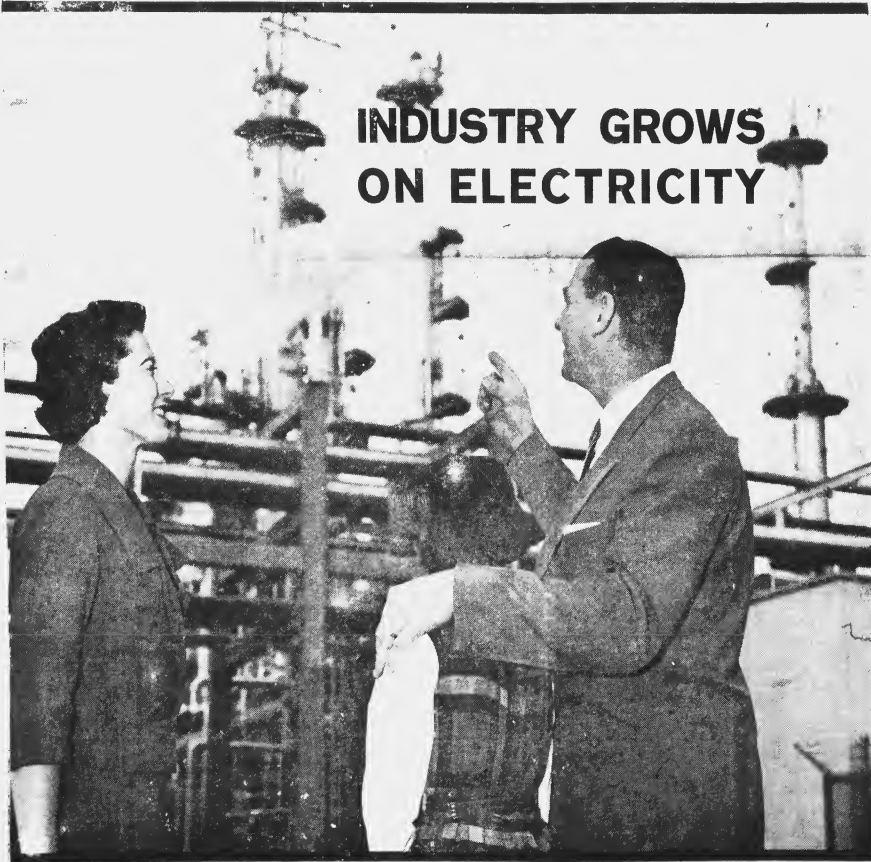

The honored guest was escorted to the head table to the strains of "The Wedding March" played by Mrs. J. Spivak. She was presented with a corsage of roses. Her mother, Mrs. Lillian Fisher, was seated at her right and was presented with a corsage of carnations.

The entertainment of the evening was whist and bingo. The whist prize winners were Mrs. Nelson of Blairmore and Mrs. J. Holyk and Mrs. Edith Nelson of Coleman. The door prize went to Mrs. A. Nash.

After a delicious lunch served by the hostesses the honored guest was presented with many beautiful gifts. The Misses Clara Jones and Joanna Misura made the presentation.

Mrs. G. Misura then presented Mrs. Flexhaug with the large gifts and presents, consisting of a steam iron, cutlery set, ironing board and cover, pop-up toaster and a table lamp. Mrs. Flexhaug very ably expressed her thanks to the friends and hostesses for the lovely shower in her behalf. Her mother, Mrs. Fisher, also expressed her thanks.

The hostesses were Mesdames E. Owen, A. Jones, E. Emmerson, E. Misura, F. Kerr, J. Scodellaro, H. Gushul, W. Frayne, I. Spivak, H. Wood, N. Milvain, E. Ledieu, D. MacQuarrie and the Misses Merle Pow, Leah Jones, K. Campbell and Darlene McDonald.

INDUSTRY GROWS ON ELECTRICITY

You could say that Industry needs Vitamin "E" to grow — "E" for Electricity. An indication of any country's industrial growth can be measured by the amount of electricity generated and used. Alberta's rapid industrial growth over the last few years has been envied by many, and this growth continues. The Brown family, on a tour of Calgary Power's facilities, are seeing one of the ways that electricity helps the oil industry — working together to provide employment and prosperity for Alberta. They realize now, as never before, that such industrial progress could not have been possible without abundant electricity, planned for and developed in advance by Calgary Power. To-day, Calgary Power's engineers are planning for the demands of Alberta's industries in the future. Helping Industry to grow is part of our picture of service.

Letter to the Editor

Ottawa, August 12th, 1960.

Dear Sir:

The present session of parliament has drawn to a close and before leaving Ottawa for the west, I want to report to you and express my thanks for the letters which many of you have taken the trouble to write. To a member, these letters are always appreciated.

During the present session I have sat on four committees dealing with Agriculture, Oil and Gas, Water Resources, Forests, and the Development of the Arctic. The Standing Committee on Agriculture has heard briefs given by several of the Western Farm Groups — Mr. G. L. Harrold, president of the Alberta Wheat Pool; Mr. Parker, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool; Mr. Wessen, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool; Mr. J. E. Brownlee, president of the United Grain Growers; Mr. Greaves of the Farmers Union; Mr. McNamara, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board; the Board of Grain Commissioners and Mr. D. J. McKinnon of the Council of Canadian Beef Producers.

We are continuing in our efforts to improve agriculture. Years ago when I served as president of the junior branch of the U.F.A. and Dr. H. W. Wood was president of the U.F.A., hundreds of resolutions were passed at annual conventions asking for the same type of farm legislation that has now been put on the statute books. In fact, every major request for legislation by farm organizations has now been implemented except deficiency payments. Vast appropriations amounting to over $150 million have been made to support these new agricultural programs. The July 30th edition of the Financial Post had this to say:

"Canada's farmers are getting three times the subsidy help from the taxpayer they were getting as recently as five years ago."

I should like to see wheat $2.00 per bushel and the price of farm machinery down so the farmer would need no subsidy, but this is easier said than done. At present the whole complex question of farm machinery prices is being investigated and machine companies and labour organizations have asked for a few months to prepare their briefs.

The subsidy paid to the Wheat

Board for grain storage increased to $38.9 million last year. A farmer marketing 10,000 bushels of grain should receive from $600 to $1,000 benefit. Unfortunately, the small farmer feeding most of his grain received little or no benefit. The Federal Government again this year passed an item of $42 million for Acreage Payments. The Acreage Payment Proposal is aimed at achieving about the same end as would be achieved by the introduction of a two-price system, which is difficult to administer because of grades. There are 230,000 Prairie Farmers holding permits who will benefit. If the Alberta Provincial Government would match the $200 per farm for the 76,000 permit holders in Alberta, it would further help the small farmers. The principal of matching federal subsidies for agriculture was established last fall on the program for crops under the snow. Federal money must be raised by taxes whereas in the province, all that is necessary is to sell another oil lease.

I hope that during the recess I shall have the opportunity of meeting many of you personally. Mail will always reach me at my farm at Nanton.

Yours Sincerely,
Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.
Mackled Constituency.

Ever soaring as more of the water resources are tapped, Canada's generation of electric energy in 1959 reached 103,844,274 megawatt hours or 73 per cent over 1958.

PROUDLY WESTERN

French Pioneers Seeking Suitable Homestead Land in the Foothills -- About 1906.

A Salute to Alberta's Early French Adventurers

The spirit of adventure which early in its history brought French explorers and colonists to the new world had not dulled, even by the late 19th century; there was still Western Canada, unsettled and undeveloped, and there were French men and women ready to cross an ocean and travel more than half the breadth of the continent to answer its challenge.

Some of those who came to Alberta had been farmers in France, but many were drawn from the aristocracy, from professional groups and from officer ranks of the French army. Choosing their homesteads here, the favored particularly the foothills country about Millarville and the parkland areas at Trochu and Sylvan Lake, districts well suited to their interests of farming and ranching and the breeding of fine light horses.

Not all the French settlers remained to live out their days here; for some there were other challenges to settle still newer lands, and for many the outbreak of World War One meant a patriotic return to their homeland to fight in the trenches alongside other Allied troops. Today, the number of their descendants in Alberta is comparatively small, but the cultural and economic contribution of these venturesome French pioneers is a proud one!
